

Invest

in the future of live music

Your gift will help make live music and music education in Arkansas possible!

The Arkansas Symphony Orchestra depends on donations from people like you who see the value of music and music education in our community. Through violin and cello lessons in the String Academy, performances by the ASO Youth Ensembles, the Children's Concerts—which are streamed to over 10,000 students each year—and the Masterworks and Pops concerts, your ASO is serving the state through the power of music. None of this would be possible without your support. Donations from supporters like you are an investment in your community. None of what ASO does would be possible without you, the community, or the ASO's musicians and music educators.
